

Alternative Dispute Resolution

Virtually every business day, many of the eight conference rooms at Zausmer are occupied by parties seeking to resolve their issues through Alternative Dispute Resolution.

It's well known that ADR can be an effective tool in keeping down litigation costs and streamlining resolution of contested matters, benefits that can be maximized by the use of experienced lawyers skilled in mediation, arbitration, and neutral case evaluation approaches and techniques. That's why other attorneys call on us.

Our ADR services cater to complex civil matters where millions or tens of millions of dollars are at stake, including:

- Class actions
- Business disputes
- Environmental cases
- Medical malpractice
- Employment claims

Not only do we provide dispute resolution services to others, we also recognize the advantages it offers our clients. In the courtroom or at the negotiation table, we are dedicated to delivering the best possible outcomes and unparalleled value.
