Attorney Nicholas Galea specializes in insurance litigation, specifically defending first-party no-fault and third-party negligence claims.

Nicholas began his legal career in criminal defense, handling traffic and DUI cases. Due to his expertise, he became the sole criminal defense attorney in his firm. Over the course of his career, Nicholas developed expertise in both criminal and civil litigation, including federal and state criminal law, personal injury, contract disputes, and more.

Nicholas has extensive experience in first- and third-party litigation, which he puts to good use to help clients achieve their goals. He distinguishes himself with a keen attention to detail, often identifying overlooked elements that dramatically alter the trajectory of a case. In litigation, his innovative thinking and adaptability make him a formidable asset.

Nicholas holds a Juris Doctorate from the University of Illinois College of Law and a Bachelor of Arts from Michigan State University. Outside of work, he enjoys travel, particularly to Egypt, the country of his wife's heritage. Passionate about sports, Nicholas enjoys cheering on Michigan State University and Detroit's local teams. One of Nicholas' many contributions to the community was volunteering at a Driver's License Road to Restoration clinic in Detroit, providing valuable assistance to residents in need.

Nicholas brings a unique blend of academic excellence, a wealth of professional experience, and a genuine passion for law to his clients and the community.
