Andrea Kahn is known for her team-oriented approach, exceptional clarity in legal writing, and dedication to her clients. She addresses complex legal issues by developing strategies focused on her clients' needs.

Andrea adeptly navigates the complexities of first-party no-fault litigation, uninsured/underinsured motorist coverage, bodily injury, negligence, and premises liability law. She values diverse input from colleagues and support staff, understanding the benefits of diverse perspectives and experiences in shaping comprehensive legal strategies. This collaborative mindset, along with her rigorous investigative techniques, ensures she manages each case effectively. Her commitment to fact-finding and her willingness to incorporate varied perspectives yields the best possible outcomes for clients.

In client interactions, Andrea emphasizes meaningful connections. She often employs humor to build rapport, fostering a friendly yet professional relationship. Through this approach, Andrea aims for the best possible outcomes through mutual cooperation.

A standout aspect of Andrea's skill set is her legal writing. She distills complex legal concepts into clear, well-structured arguments. Andrea is committed to keeping clients and colleagues well-informed, ensuring transparent and timely communication throughout the legal process.

Outside the legal arena, Andrea engages in her passion for baking, a hobby that has evolved into a successful side business since 2018. Throughout the year, she bakes and decorates thousands of cookies, which she finds to be a wonderful outlet for expressing her creativity. Her compassionate nature manifests through her commitment to a dog rescue organization.

Andrea's intellectual rigor, collaborative spirit, and personal dedication are evident in every aspect of her work. Her comprehensive understanding of the law, combined with her ability to connect on a personal level, make her a valuable member of our team and a reliable advocate for her clients.
