Zachary Mittison is a detail-oriented, client-centric attorney dedicated to delivering clear, strategic solutions in insurance defense.

Zachary Mittison's journey into law was sparked by a lifelong love of reading and a fundamental belief in the principles of justice and fairness. At Zausmer, Zachary focuses on defending a variety of PIP cases. He manages discovery and preliminary investigations to ensure that cases are handled in a concise fashion.

Zachary's approach to law is methodical and client-focused. He prioritizes developing comprehensive litigation plans and maintaining clear communications with all parties. His work ethic and reliability have led to consistent wins and a reputation for dependability. He has a particular knack for dealing with priority disputes and domicile issues, demonstrating an ability to uncover truth amidst obfuscation.

Zachary's ability to succinctly communicate with clients and understand the intricacies of their cases, makes him a standout attorney. His background includes clerking for a judge and honing his writing skills at KPMG, contributing to his proficiency in drafting motions and briefs.

Zachary enjoys spending time with his chocolate lab and two Siamese cats. He also cultivates a hobby of brewing unique alcoholic beverages, with a particular interest in mead and experimenting with different flavors and techniques.
