Courtney Fisk defends insurers in complex disputes by building fact-based defenses and carrying them through to resolution.

Courtney Fisk is an insurance defense attorney with a background in personal injury, contract disputes, and commercial matters. She evaluates liability and exposure, then shapes a defense that aligns with client goals. Her prior experience representing plaintiffs in personal injury cases helps her anticipate opposing strategies and arguments and move cases toward resolution.

Clients value Courtney's direct, plainspoken guidance. She works closely with clients, explains legal issues in simple terms, and outlines options tied to their goals. She has litigated matters in state and federal courts across Michigan. Her experience advising on business matters enhances her ability to assess risk and align legal decisions with business objectives.

Courtney earned her J.D. from Valparaiso University School of Law and an M.B.A. from Central Michigan University. She is admitted to practice in Michigan and in the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan.

Outside of the office, Courtney is passionate about giving back to her community. She has been an active volunteer at Ele's Place of Western Michigan for more than a decade and currently serves on their Community Board. She also provides pro bono representation through Legal Aid of Western Michigan. When not working or volunteering, Courtney enjoys spending time with her two sons, golfing, hiking, fishing, and caring for rescue animals.
